Visit: www.rfacom.mod.uk

This will take you to this page:

Security Statement

Although the Royal Navy and Royal Fleet Auxiliary members' areas are in a protected environment, it only contains unclassified information. It is, therefore, important that when using chatrooms and discussion forums users refrain from discussing matters of a sensitive military operational nature: for example dates and destinations of port visits including homecomings, troop locations/movements/operations. Normal commonsense should dictate what is appropriate and what is not - but if you have any doubts, then it is probably advisable to leave it out. Clarification can be sought from the Web Team or Moderators. In using this site it is important that you agree to fully comply with the security and operating policies and rules.

The RNavm/RFACom Chatroom and Discussion Forums are operated by Human Resources Technologies, Inc., and are provided to you under the terms and conditions of the RNavm Mail conditions of use and any operating rules or policies that may be published by MOD and/or the RN. The Conditions of Use comprises the entire agreement between you and RNavm Mail and supersedes all prior agreements between the parties.

By registering for a new account, I agree to fully comply with the Security and Operating Procedures in accordance with MOD policy.
